Hospice/Palliative Care Services

Hospice programs provide end-of-life care to terminally ill patients and their families. Hospice utilizes a team approach to meet the medical, psychological, and spiritual needs of patients and family. Nursing, personal hygiene, social workers, and pastoral care are available. Many programs also offer grief counseling and support groups. Hospices are licensed by the state. Core hospice services are reimbursed by Medicare, Medicaid, and most private insurance plans. Other services are at no cost to the family or family. Visit <http://www.medicare.gov/care-compare> for a listing of agencies in your geographic area.

Long Term Care, Skilled Care and Personal Care Facilities

Long Term Care Facilities provide 24-hour care. Skilled Care may be required under specific circumstances for therapy and daily skilled nursing care. Personal Care or Intermediate Care is a less intensive level of care than skilled care. Most long-term care facilities offer both levels of care. Some also offer a personal care level for those who do not have a skilled need. Some may specialize in only one level. Most long-term care facilities accept private pay, Medicare and Medicaid. Long term care facilities are licensed by the state and must meet specific standards of patient care. Varying levels of Alzheimer's/Dementia care are available in many long-term care facilities. Some facilities offer separate, secured units and some do not. Also, staff may or may not have special training. Visit Medicare.gov/homehealthcompare for a listing of skilled agencies in your geographic area.

Philip's Lifeline	Henderson	800-543-3546

Respite Care

Respite allows a caregiver to have "time off" to continue supporting those who need their help. One form of such care is having the individual who needs help attend an adult day care center (See Adult Day Care section). Another option is respite care provided in one's home by private pay in-home sitters and companions (see the Personal Services and General Assistance Section).

Some assisted living communities and long-term care facilities offer overnight respite (relief) for caregivers. This can vary from one night to several nights depending on the facility and the room availability (see the Assisted Living and Long-Term Care Facility sections).

Assisted Living/Retirement Communities

Retirement Communities generally offer a wide range of choices in living arrangements and services. These may include Independent Living, Assisted Living, or both. Meals, transportation, maid services, laundry, recreation, and special assistance are possible services. Note that some communities offer graduated levels of care, including 24-hour nursing care; these are called Continuing Care Retirement Communities.

Adult Day Care

These organizations have structured care for the elderly and disabled of all ages. Adult daycare centers generally provide activities (recreational and therapeutic), meals, personal care (bathing, grooming), nursing services (medication administration, lab testing, wound care), and therapy (physical, occupational, speech). Care is arranged for specific days and times and may include programs for persons with memory loss problems such as Alzheimer's. Transportation may be available. Some services are covered by Medicare, Medicaid, or private insurance.

Long Term Care Insurance

Long term care insurance, depending on the policy, can help pay for nursing home, assisted living, and/or home care (home health, personal care, and companion services). Policies vary widely in service covered, choice of care providers, and cost.

Contact your insurance agency or financial advisor for more information.

Senior Centers

Senior Centers often provide a broad range of services including educational activities, health promotion programs, social activities, travel, and volunteer opportunities. Contact the senior center in your area for a complete listing of service available.

Reverse Mortgages

A reverse mortgage is a loan that allows a senior to borrow off the value of their home. The extra money that you receive from this loan can allow you to spend your retirement years in a home you've worked to have. The loan is usually paid back to the lender by the sale of the home either when you (the senior) decides to move permanently, or death. Counseling by a professional is highly recommended and sometimes even required.

Contact your bank or financial advisor for more information.

Subsidized Housing

These facilities are subsidized under the US Department of Housing and Urban Development and Housing Agency (HUD). HUD Section 8 is a federal program that provides assistance to eligible low-income families, the elderly, and persons with disabilities. The residents of these facilities are primarily seniors and each facility have different admission criteria.
